

The 2016 donations totaled $14,208, down from 2015 donations however, very close to the average annual donations since the fund has been in operation.

Of that amount, $11,925 was received from donations outside of Indonesia while $2,283 was donated from within Indonesia. Expenditure in 2016 totaled $8,596. This is down a bit from the previous year corresponding to a decrease in the number of students assisted.

There were 61 students assisted by the Jaredita Foundation in 2016 compared to 73 students assisted in 2015. The year-end balance increased in 2016 because donations for the year exceeded expenditures.

The current balance remains strong presenting an opportunity for the foundation to potentially expand the number of children that can be assisted with education expenses.

The board of JFI would like to thank all of the donors for your continued support as together we move forward in our efforts to brighten the future of the rising generation through education.

JFI & PEF: Tujuan yang Sama

By Ricky Pudja Mak, Juswan Tandiman and Chad Emmett

The Perpetual Education Fund (PEF) began serving students in Indonesia in 2005.

This program is administered through The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and was established to provide educational loans for post-secondary education. It has been administered in Indonesia since 2012/2013 as part of Self Reliance Services (SRS).

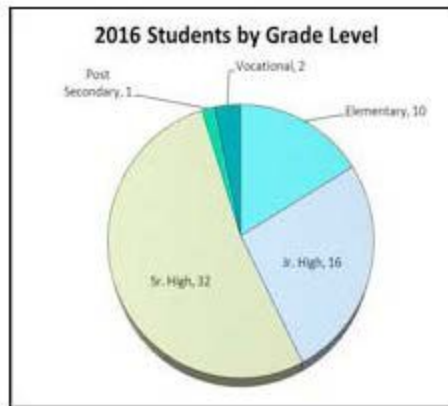

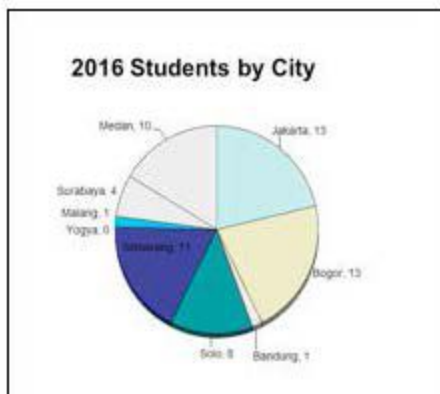

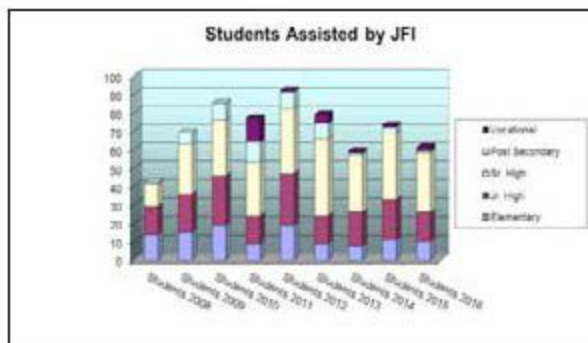

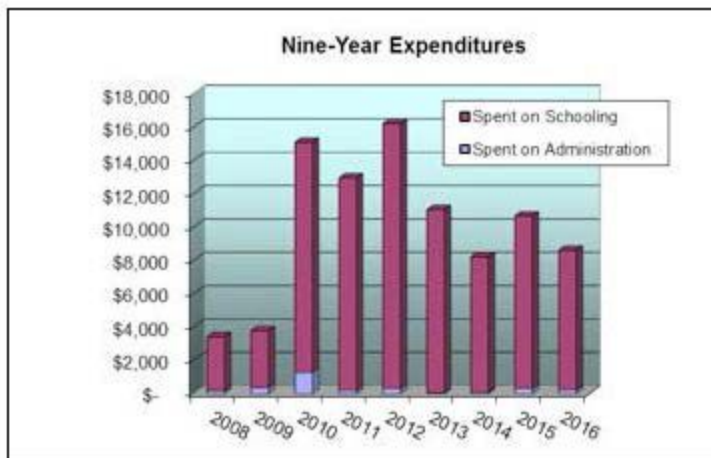

The Jaredita Foundation, Inc., was established as a non-profit NGO in 2009 to provide educational support for elementary and secondary students in Indonesia.

JFI is not affiliated with the LDS Church but one of its goals is to make it possible for children to graduate from high school so that they can then continue their education and, if needed, apply for PEF assistance.

Together JFI and PEF assist the youth of Indonesia in reaching their education goals.

The pie charts shows where the students being assisted by JFI are located and the number of students by grade level that were assisted in 2016. We thought you might be interested to know the geographical distribution of the students since many of you have been to these locations.

About the Jaredita Foundation, Inc.

The Jaredita Foundation Inc (JFI) is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization named in honor of Jaredita—beloved daughter of Steffi and Subandriyo. She passed away in 2007 after one year of schooling at BYU-Hawai'i and just weeks before she planned to enter BYU-Provo. Jaredita had a love of learning and a love for the children of Indonesia.

The purpose of JFI is to help young Latter-day Saint children and young adults get an education. With the help of in-country facilitators (all are returned missionaries), children who are not able to attend school because their families cannot afford tuition, books and uniforms (about $11-15 per month) will be offered financial assistance to pay for primary and secondary schooling.

Payments are made directly to the schools. In most instances the fund will pay for half of the school cost with the family paying the other half.

Since educational loans are not available in Indonesia, JFI will also offer tuition assistance for qualified Latter-day Saint young adults to obtain post secondary school training. JFI loan recipients are expected to pay back into the fund once they have graduated and obtained work.

Donors will be sent a yearly report of how the funds were used. We encourage donors to consider arranging to make monthly direct deposits from their bank into the JFI bank account. This will guarantee a more constant supply of funds. You can also donate at our web site via PayPal or by sending a check to the address below. We are also happy to receive matching funds from employers.

Thank you for supporting this worthy cause. Supporting the educational endeavors of Latter-day Saints in Indonesia will have a lasting positive impact and will bless the lives of many for generations to come. We started in 2009.

Because JFI is an all-volunteer organization, nearly all of the money donated goes to payment of educational expenses of the students being assisted. Only $222 was spent on administration in 2016. Administration costs include expenses such as bank fees, wire transfer fees, printing costs and the like. Students assisted by JFI apply and are officially accepted into the program before aid is provided. The program pays the student expenses directly

We sincerely thank all those who have donated to JFI and we ask for your continued support so that we can continue this great service of ensuring that all of the young people of the Church in Indonesia receive a quality education.

Special thanks to Diandra Subandriyo and her team of LDS Business College students for helping to improve our social media outreach. Check out their great work on our Facebook page: <https://www.facebook.com/JareditaFoundation/>

The Program Education Fund (PEF) began several decades ago. This program is administered through The Council of Islamic Child of Java and began as a voluntary effort to provide educational funds for post-secondary education. It has institutionalized its business since 1997/98 as part of IAIN Bontonek's business plan.

Currently there are 80 students from Indonesia in the worldwide program. I remain confident that growth will still have students from all over Java. The PEF from previous issues has provided a lot of assistance for the participants.

All students keep their commitment and must spend their own pocket money to complete their education. I am proud of the 40 former members of this fund. Now, this money their only source to pay back the amount of their own investment.

From Ekkor Salsanahyo

For the education program has been running for three years now. "What I believe that is not many know the concept is to use their children's computer in their education."

As a young person in Indonesia, I have some special good feelings. We began teaching English to 9-12 year olds in Solo last year. In addition to English, we also provide students in logic and math with an aim to the science classes. All of these helps and more my college students who received help from JFI. Thank you to match for your generous contributions and support.

JFI: Helping Students Help Themselves

Over the past year I've had the pleasure to help several Indonesian children and young adults with educational assistance. This goal is to provide several of them opportunities to see the world when they finish their education.

Adam V. Hanna is in the sixth grade at Angkor Community School in Yankton, South Dakota. The concept of playing soccer and began to play to become a professional soccer player. He really likes to play and a balance between studying and soccer practice. He wants to play a soccer club, but since it might not be the way of preparing for his final exams, he has decided he will wait until the summer time when he can play the club. He is excited to be going to see his High School. Starting a soccer ball for the kids. I think it is a great idea. The an opportunity to learn English to help him prepare to be a future professional.

Beginnings of JFI

By: Priyo Dhanarso

Not long after my return to the United States in 2001, I was invited to the Yarnick Center. Being away from Indonesia for quite some time, the Yarnick Center in Bogor gives me a different perspective compared to what I had been involved with in the U.S. The main problems for many members in Bogor are still related to financial issues - unemployment, limited schooling level for family, school expenses for their child.

Every personal experience, I can share those stories. But my experience happened when I studied a visit with friends in Indonesia at that moment. This gave me a chance to get some feedback from them. I began teaching them how they can improve their lives by increasing their income.
